

DEATH OF HON. JOHN CHARLTON

For Nearly Thirty-Five Years a Leading Member of House of Commons

PART PLAYED IN OPPOSITION

A Great Fighter in the Days of Liberal Adversity—A Member of the International Commission

Déjà, Ont., Feb. 12.—Hon. John Charlton, who has been ill for a long time, died at his home at Lyndoch at 9.45 last night.

Mr. Charlton was a leading figure at Ottawa for many years. For nearly thirty-five he held a seat in the House of Commons, retiring on account of ill-health and the disappearance of his constituency of North Norfolk, through the redistribution bill, at the general election of 1904. During the long period of Conservative administration from 1878 to 1896, he was one of the foremost opponents of the government, and it was a matter of very general surprise when he was not included in the ministry formed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier. After 1896 he did not play so prominent a part, though he was a member of the International Commission of 1897-8, which had under consideration various matters in dispute between Canada and the United States. Lord Herschell represented the British government and Sir Wilfrid Laurier headed the Canadian delegation. In his own district he was a man of importance. He had large lumbering interests and was commonly supposed to have amassed a large fortune. Hon. W. A. Charlton, former speaker of the Ontario Legislature, was a brother. The two were intimately associated in business matters, coming to Canada from the States many years ago.

Mr. Charlton was an authority on matters of trade and his speeches and magazine articles dealing with this branch of public affairs always received widespread attention. A unique occasion in Mr. Charlton's life was the celebration, at the town of Waterford, which is in his old constituency, in the summer of 1897, of the 25th anniversary of his entrance into public life. The gathering was held in the open air and the thousands of people who came together from the whole countryside bore testimony to the place which Mr. Charlton held in the estimation of those who knew him best. He was one of those rugged political fighters, who have to speak their mind freely or not at all. It is in the days of a party's adversity that they come to the front. John Charlton's work was done when the Liberals won the election of 1896, but the party of today would do well to honor his memory. It is in such men that his hope lies.

NEW POSTOFFICE SOON COMPLETED

The General Postoffice Superintendent Pleased with Local Management—Views on Sunday Closing of Western Offices

In the course of his regular tour of the post office centres of the country, George Ross, J. S. O., chief post office superintendent for Canada, passed through Edmonton last evening on his way to Saskatoon. He came up from Lethbridge, where he found the post office quite congested owing to the great increase of business in that city. "I came to Edmonton," said Mr. Ross to the Capital, "particularly to see what progress is being made in the new post office. I find it is a splendid building and nearing completion. When I return to Ottawa, I shall see that all the interior furnishings are supplied at once and shall come out myself to see them fully installed. It will be only a matter of a short time before the post office department will occupy the new building."

The superintendent expressed himself as well pleased with the management of the Edmonton post office and the ever increasing volume of business which was being handled. He thought that the staff would hardly be lost in the new post office, large as it was. Asked as to the Sunday closing of post offices in western cities, Mr. Ross did not wish to say very much about it as the question was rather sub judice at Ottawa. He said the root of the agitation for Sunday closing was the clause in the Lord's Day Act which was to the effect that post offices were only to be open for dispatch and receipt of mails. He said that the public were not supposed to have the use of the offices on Sunday.

Mr. Ross, is one of the veterans of the Dominion civil service having been in the employ of the post office department for thirty-five years. He has recently been decorated with the Order of the Imperial Service.

FIRST REPORT LAID ON TABLE

That of Provincial Secretary First to be Presented at Each Session of Legislature

Report Shows Great Number of Strong Financial Concerns Registered—Yield Large Increase in Departmental Revenue—1909an Important Year

The first business day of the legislature yesterday was the report of the Provincial Secretary, laid on the table by Hon. Duncan Marshall. The report to which is affixed the name of Harold W. Riley as deputy provincial secretary is given in extract as follows:

"It is gratifying to report that the past year has in every respect been by far the most important year in the department's history. The temporary financial depression throughout the year, which was the result of the 1908-9 depression, was met by the opening of 1909 and a feeling of extreme hopefulness and buoyancy has prevailed in commercial circles generally throughout the year. If the department's record can be accepted as any indication of the commercial and industrial progress of the province it is plainly manifest that the year 1909 will rank above all others as it indicated by the extent to which capitalists have been directed to Alberta as a profitable field for the employment of surplus means. Perhaps at no time in the department's history has there been a greater and more constant flow of outside capital seeking investment in the development of some one or other of the province's great natural resources than during the year just past."

ALL BUT ONE ON BOARD PERISHED

The Liner General Chanzy Crashed at Full Speed Into Rocks of the Island of Minorca

SHIP'S COMPANY NUMBERED 157

Passengers were Mostly Officers and Officials Returning to Algiers—Sole Survivor is in the Hospital, Having been Rescued by Fishermen—Two Anglo-Saxon Names on the List

Palma, Island of Majorca, Feb. 12.—Sweep helplessly from her course in one of the wildest storms that has swept the Mediterranean sea in forty years, the French transatlantic steamship company's steamer General Chanzy crashed at full speed in the dead night on the treacherous reefs near the island of Minorca, and about one of the 157 souls on board perished. The sole survivor is an Algerian customs officer, Mariel Rodol, who was rescued by fishermen and lies at the hospital at Ciudadela, as a result of the terrors passed through. He is unable to give an account of the disaster. Of the ship's company there were 87 passengers, of which 30 were first cabin. The crew numbered 70. The ship was in command of Capt. Cayol, one of the most careful officers of the line. He never before had met with an accident and was soon to have retired from the service. The passengers of the Chanzy were mostly French officers and officials returning to their posts in Algeria, accompanied by their wives and children, and a few soldiers, some Italians, Turks, and one Jew. The only Anglo-Saxon names on the passenger list were Green and Stakely. They were members of an opera troupe of eleven who had been engaged to sing at the Casino in Algiers. The General Chanzy sailed from Marseilles on Wednesday at noon and was due to arrive at Algiers on Thursday afternoon.

Many Inquiries for Friends
Paris, February 11.—The office of the General Trans-Atlantic Company was thronged by hundreds of inquirers throughout the evening, most of them having relatives or friends on board the General Chanzy. The officials were not able to give the crowd any re-assuring information or to encourage the hope that others desires Rodol had reached the shore, as was rumored. The island of Minorca has sent help. The French consul at Ciudadela has gone to the point of the coast nearest to where the disaster occurred. A dispatch from Marseilles says the Canebiere, the boulevard which leads to the old port, is crowded with a desperate, excited, multitudes, among whom are many relatives of the drowned people. Terrible scenes of grief can be seen. A girl whose betrothed was on board the lost steamer went to the quay at Marseilles about the time of the wreck in a state of great excitement. She screamed again and again: "There has been a disaster; I had a vision of it."

The vessel apparently weathered the gale until Thursday night. Then she approached the Balearic Archipelago. Apparently the force of the wind and the wildness of the storm drove the captain off his course. Judging from the fact that none of the bodies picked up had life preservers, the ship sank so quickly after the crash that the passengers had no time to do anything.

All day long pieces of wreckage were washed ashore. The fishermen at first found the storm so violent that they dared not venture. Bodies of the victims were washed ashore and towards afternoon the violence of the storm abated somewhat, permitting the ships to go out. Smaller islands nearby were visited and three bodies were picked up.

People who have lived on these islands all their lives say today they never experienced such a terrific storm as in the last few days. Minorca, the island off which the wreck took place, lies to the east of Spain, in the Mediterranean, and is almost half way between Marseilles and Algiers.

Strange Ottawa Affair
Charles Eldridge, Wanted for Forgery, Disappears with Young Woman
Ottawa, Feb. 11.—A development in connection with the departure and death of Mrs. Charles Eldridge, who died on the train for Toronto on Wednesday morning, was revealed yesterday, when warrants were sworn out for the arrest of the woman's husband, Chas. Eldridge, on charges of forgery and passing spurious cheques. Another development is the disappearance of Eldridge, who is declared on good authority to have decamped with one of the young lady clerks employed by him at his offices in Sparks Chambers.

Death of Winnipeg Old-Timer
Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 12.—Capt. Kennedy, an old timer, who went to the Nile with the Voyageurs in 1882, died today. He was a brother of the late Colonel Kennedy and has been employed in the land titles office. He came to Winnipeg with the Wolseley expedition. He was born in Peterboro, Ont., in 1845.

Consul Murdered
Strange Sidelight on News of the Wreck of the Chanzy
Algiers, Feb. 12.—M. Dachot, French consul here, was shot and killed yesterday by an unidentified man as he was entering his auto. M. Dachot was on his way to make inquiries concerning the wrecked steamer, General Chanzy, on which he had two friends.

WILL INSTALL THE AUTOMATIC

British Columbia Telephone Men are Coming to see how the System Works out in this Province

The automatic telephone which has been installed in Edmonton, Calgary and other places in the province will be inspected on Monday next by British Columbia telephone men who are thinking of installing the system in the coast cities. John Wiley, travelling representative of the Automatic Telephone Co. of Chicago, who is in the city at present, will go to Calgary on Monday to meet Superintendent Farrell of the British Columbia Telephone Co., and Geo. Halse, secretary. Together they will inspect the system in use in Calgary and then will visit Edmonton for a similar purpose.

Mr. Wiley says the V.I.'s have been down in California inspecting the system there but want to see what satisfaction the automatic system has given Alberta before they decide to adopt it.

ALIENATION CAME HIGH

A Verdict of $75,000 Rendered Against Laura Biggar, the Actress

New York, Feb. 12.—A verdict for $75,000, said to be the largest ever rendered in an alienation suit, was awarded yesterday to Mrs. Chas. C. Hendrick of Brooklyn against Laura Biggar, a former actress, for alienating the affections of Mrs. Hendrick's divorced husband, Dr. Chas. C. Hendrick. Neilson, the defendant, who is said to be in California, nor Dr. Hendrick appeared at the trial. Both were indicted several years ago for conspiracy in connection with the sensational contest to win the control of the $10,000,000 estate of Henry M. Bennett, a Pittsburgh theatrical manager. Laura Biggar was acquitted and Dr. Hendrick convicted, but he later secured a new trial and was freed. Mrs. Hendrick then secured a divorce naming Laura Biggar, and later brought the alienation suit decided yesterday.

SOCIALIST TAKES HIS SEAT

Several Private Bills Presented to the House—Standing Committee Appointed for the Session

Calmly and dispassionately C. M. O'Brien, M.L.A., Socialist representative for Rocky Mountain, took his seat in the Legislature yesterday for the first time. The opening ceremonies with the social frills appertaining thereto had proceeded without him, and he seemed to enter the House only when he thought it meant business. His presence to the extreme left of the speaker behind the leader of the Opposition and near the door was conspicuous. He wore a heavy projecting jaw, a soft shirt and a bright red necktie. Altogether he looked the Socialist, but the curtain has not yet gone up on the part he is to play.

The absence of the leader of the Opposition from the House was sufficient to indicate that the day's business would not be voluminous. The presenting of several petitions, the laying on the table of the annual report of the provincial secretary's department, and notice of questions that the government will be asked on Tuesday next comprised the business which preceded the adjournment of the House until Monday.

Mr. Riley, Gleichen, introduced a petition asking incorporation of the Gleichen Chas. Hon. W. A. Buchanan, (Continued on Page Five)

CALEDONIANS NOW HAVE BANNER

Presentation Made by Rev. Dr. McQueen on Behalf of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Society

On Thursday evening the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Caledonian Society held a most enjoyable concert and dance in the Separate School Hall, the members and friends turning out in large numbers.

The chair was occupied by President J. MacPherson, who was supported by ex-President Rea and Rev. Dr. McQueen. At about 8:30 p.m. the chairman in a short address opened the concert. He explained the object of the Ladies' Auxiliary and made an appeal to the ladies present to join the auxiliary or use their influence to induce others to become members.

During the programme Mr. Geo. Docherty, rendered "Scotland Yet." Mrs. Davidson and Mr. and Miss Gardner gave two musical selections which added variety to the programme. After a song by Mr. Wm. Pirie, entitled "The Standard on the Braes of Mar," the president called on Rev. Dr. McQueen to make the presentation of the banner, the standards of which were upheld by Pipe-Major Laing and Mr. J. Torrance, the cords by Masters Brown and Davidson, all dressed in Highland costume. Rev. Dr. McQueen spoke at some length on what banners had been to Scotland and Scotsmen, sometimes Scottish banners had gone down to defeat, but never to disgrace, and he hoped that, even although the Caledonians of Edmonton might have to go down to defeat, their banner never would be disgraced. The president then thanked the Ladies' Auxiliary in a short but neat speech for their handsome gift, and his remarks were further added to by ex-President Rea.

Other contributions to the programme were: Poem, by Mr. Robt. Anderson of the fire department written specially for this occasion; an excellent rendering of "Oh, We'll Thou in the Cauld Blast," by Mrs. Fox and Mrs. Davidson; a comic song by W. Ross and a reading by Mr. John Norcote.

Miss Crawford acted as accompanist in a very skillful manner during the entire programme.

Dancing was later indulged in from 10 to 12 p.m., and the company parted after a most enjoyable evening. The banner that was presented is a beautiful piece of workmanship. It is eight feet broad and seven feet high, represents the St. Andrews Cross, with the Scottish coat of arms in the center. "The Caledonian Society of the City of Edmonton" circularly printed around the design. The banner was designed by Mr. Robert Anderson and procured by Mr. Livingstone of the Caledonian Store, where it will be on exhibition at an early date.

REDMOND HAS THEM GUESSING

His Speech at Dublin has Stirred up British Politicians to Remarkable Extent

RADICAL JOURNAL'S WARNING That if Anti-Veto Policy is Dropped the Government will Come Down with an Immediate Crash

London, Feb. 12.—The political situation is very much complicated by Mr. Redmond's speech in Dublin on Thursday night. Rumors, speculations and reports are more rife than ever. The Daily Mail declares that the King's government must be carried on, and presumes that Mr. Balfour would not refuse assistance to Mr. Asquith against the Nationalists. "The Lloyd George budget is a bad one," says the Mail, "but it is reasonable that the Unionists might assist its passage, possibly with modifications, to avoid a financial breakdown." The Liberals are admittedly greatly exercised by Mr. Redmond's declaration. The Chronicle says that if Mr. Redmond thinks he can advance the interests of Ireland better by urging the government out, either or the point of procedure or by the budget, then it is his duty to do so, and the sooner he does it the better, but declares that he is laboring under a misapprehension when he imagines that the government wishes to postpone the veto question to some more convenient future time. Reports of cabinet discussions are emphatically denied. The Nation says that no understanding exists between the King and the ministers, and warns the latter that if the anti-veto policy is dropped and a policy of a reformed second chamber substituted, the debate will be inevitable, immediate and overwhelming. The Times says the Unionists would stillify themselves if they neglected to vote against the budget at the first opportunity. It would be the height of folly not to throw it out if they could.

NURSE UNLIKELY TO RECOVER

Miss Scott, of Calgary, has her Skull Fractured While Going to Church

Calgary, Feb. 12.—While on her way from Calgary to attend a case near Claresholm, Miss Scott, a nurse living in Calgary, had her skull fractured in a runaway accident last night and is not expected to recover. Miss Scott is a graduate nurse of the women's hospital at Montreal, and very recently joined her family here in Calgary. Yesterday morning Dr. Steve of Claresholm telephoned Ald. Fred Currie to send down a nurse to handle the case of Mrs. Tawlsen, a lady living near Claresholm. Miss Scott went down and was met by Dr. Steve, who was to drive her to the hospital. On the way the horse bolted, while they were passing through a gate and Miss Scott was precipitated to the ground.

THE ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE ECHO

The reproduction on this page of the first issue of the Rocky Mountain House Echo serves to illustrate the spirit that is building up Alberta. The publisher had only the crudest equipment at his disposal, so he explains to his readers, but he turns out a readable sheet. A perusal of the Echo's columns shows that life sixty miles from the railway need not necessarily be tedious or uninteresting. Rocky Mountain House derives its name from the Hudson Bay post that was formerly located there. It is directly west of Red Deer and 130 miles above Edmonton up the Saskatchewan River. Between thirty and forty families have gone into the township within the past two years, and many others are expected in the near future. The Capital heartily welcomes this latest addition to the journalistic family of the province. The publisher deserves all success. It is by such demonstrations of faith in what the future is to bring, as unselfish settlement like that at Rocky Mountain House, that the public at large becomes impressed with a country's possibilities. May the Echo, accordingly, go around the world!

MR. FARRER'S RECOLLECTIONS

It is a matter of profound regret that so little of genuine value is finding its way into print in regard to the earlier years of the Dominion's history, of the decade or so that followed Confederation. Those who played a part therein are disappearing one by one and soon there will be none left from whom we can learn anything at first hand in regard to the men, the manners and the events of that important epoch. No one so well qualified to write of it as Mr. Edward Farrer, for many years editor of the Toronto Mail, and afterwards leading editorial writer for the Toronto Globe. He saw the political struggles of those years from the inside and knew the leaders of both parties as perhaps no one else did. If he could be induced to write his reminiscences, they would make a most fascinating volume, and prove of the greatest value to the student of Canadian development. Unfortunately he is still a very busy man. What he could produce is indicated by a delightful sketch which he contributes to the Canadian Century, a new weekly, published in Montreal, from which the following extract is taken: "Taking everything into account, I should say that, intellectually, Sir Alexander Galt was the ablest man I have seen at Ottawa; next to him, by a short neck, Edward Blake," writes Mr. Farrer. "But then, as the reader knows, these were not the successful men politically. I saw Howe in the House, and likewise Hincks, but they had passed their climax; so that we were brought back to Sir John Macdonald.

Mr. Farrer speaks of Sir John's sagacity for meeting each political situation as it arose, and recalls his depression at the rejection of the Fenian raid claims by the Washington Conference in the early 'seventies. The Liberalism of a generation ago Mr. Farrer regarded as somewhat harsh, which assumed that the Tory was bad by nature and circumstances. "Sir John's politics, viewing them at this distance were more popular with the average man. He allowed that he was frail and asked people to support him on that account. In his private opinions there was nothing Tory in the technical sense; indeed, judged by what he did in public, he would have been regarded in the old country as a somewhat advanced Liberal. At home he bore no malice to those who fought him publicly. When George Brown was dying Sir John used to telegraph us every night as to his condition. On the night of Mr. Brown's death he sent a long message, which I conveyed to one of the family then on another journey. It was full of sorrow and kindness. "Yet he could be as severe as the

EDITORIAL

This paper is coming before the public for the first time, and we hope it will please the readers of this vicinity and other districts. A newspaper as a rule starts when the time is well established, but we for once have reversed proceedings, with the C. P. Ry. building in next year and C. N. R. asking for a line from a point west of Olds, to this place we are sure of a town growing here within a year.

We have in this part of the province as good a climate as will be found between the Great Lakes and the Rocky Mountains, a fertile country with an abundance of Coal, Wood, and Building Timber, also plenty of good water, the country is best adapted for mixed farming.

A year ago the settlers of this vicinity could be counted on a person's fingers, but you could hardly count them with the pegs of a cribbage board now, and they are the best kind of settlers, as they are mostly Canadians and their cousins.

Nothing remains of the old Fort, our little paper takes its name from except part of five of the open fire-places and chimneys. Little did the hardy H. B. occupants dream that in forty-seven years after they abandoned this point for the want of fur, that we would "Echo" their name across the valley of the Saskatchewan River.

A merchant in Stauffer wanted us to run an Ad. for them on a 2 cent rate in exchange for goods; we are sorry that we could not oblige the firm, but we do not have any two-cent goods at five-cent prices.

It took half a dozen of what some folk call men to throw a seventeen year old boy out of his cabin a month ago. He is not a prize fighter either.

The C. P. Ry. engineers have re-without hope of reward? "There was a poor fellow from the Maritime Provinces, long since dead, who had written letters for the Mail, which had helped matters, no doubt, and Sir John then and there gave him a place, amid loud acclaim. And so it went, every one present being cheered, not by an office, perhaps, but of the kind words the Old Man said. I think all are now dead, save myself, and O dear, how sad one feels for loss of friends as one nears the common end."

CANADA AND THE PARTY

Toronto Star.

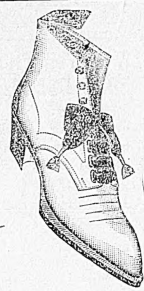

The attitude of the Conservative party in regard to the navy almost lends itself to the belief that it has ceased to be a Canadian party, to sympathize with Canadian aspirations, and to keep pace with Canadian progress. At one time it was a distinctly Canadian party, and its political success from 1878 to the death of Sir John Macdonald was due to its Canadianism. It swept the country in 1878 on the National Policy, and the victory was no, for protection alone, but for the national idea conveyed by the name, which appealed to Canadian pride and patriotism. A few years later it identified itself with the building of the Canadian Pacific Railway, a national project of extraordinary boldness; a project which would be regarded as bold even for the Canada of today, and which in that day of small things was

Queen City Critics Prophesy that the Eastern Pro. Race will End Ottawa, Wanderers, Renfrew

The events of last week indicate that the contenders in the Eastern Pro. League race are Ottawa, Wanderers, Renfrew, and possibly Cobalt. The others have not, even an outside chance for the money, and there'll be some tall hustling to get money to pay the salaries of the tail-enders in the big end of the season. The Renfrew-Shamrock tie game was ordered to be re-played and is not included in the record. Ottawa's win at Cobalt Saturday night meant a lot to the Stanley Cup holders. They should easily score another victory at Hailybury Wednesday, and then back home for the great struggle with Renfrew Saturday night. The diamond-studded team will be idle all week, and should be in the pink. Ottawa should win, but Fred Taylor, Fred Whitford, and Lester Patrick will work their heads off to score a victory owing to the intense rivalry that has been created this winter between the Creamery Town and the Capital. It isn't Renfrew, however, but Wanderers, that should be feared, as they appear to be the "team to beat." They have a couple of easy games to play before they meet Ottawa in Montreal a week from next Saturday, and that game will practically decide the championship. Cobalt has a good team and may overcome the handicap of their two defeats, but this is hardly likely. At Hailybury Ottawa and Wanderers beat Renfrew on their own ice. Shamrocks, Hailybury and Les Canadiens are out-clasped by the other teams—Toronto Star.

IMPORTANT NEWS TO HORSE OWNERS

Hopples will not be Allowed in Races Against Time or on Two-Year-Olds in 1910

New York, Feb. 10.—Beginning with the season of 1910, no hopples shall be used on pacing horses, and in the interim the device is to be gradually eliminated. This decision was reached by the twenty-fifth congress of the National Trotting Association, at a meeting in New York today.

Hopples, said a new rule, shall not be used in races or performances against time or on two-year-olds or under in 1910; on three-year-olds or under in 1911; on four-year-olds or under in 1912; on five-year-olds or under in 1913; on six-year-olds or under in 1914; after which time hopples shall be barred. No action was taken on the request from the stewards of the Grand Circuit that horses shall be eligible to start on half-mile tracks in classes four seconds slower than on mile-track records. It was decided that trotting associations in Ohio might join either the National Association or the American Association, as they desire.

Ottawa and Wanderers will fight it out for the Stanley Cup.

Renfrew and Cobalt are the outsiders with a chance for the trophy.

The Ottawa club has won eleven consecutive games, and is undefeated this season.

BOBBY KERR WAS BEATEN

The Olympic 220-yd. Champion Loses Two Races in New York—The Judging was Very Poor

Bobby Kerr of Hamilton, the greatest 100-yard and 220-yard sprinter in Canada and the equal of any runner in America, was beaten at New York. The autumn-haired runner's legion of friends will not take his defeat so much to heart when they hear he ran the two grand races, losing one by a bad decision of the judges, who placed him third when it was the general opinion he had finished first. In the handicap event he ran second to a New York sprinter with a nine-foot handicap.

Competing in the 70 yards handicap event, Kerr ran second in the first heat to Frank Stephenson of the Trinity club, who had a lead of nine feet, and who covered the distance in 71.5 seconds, equalling the world's record for the distance. In the semi-finals of the handicap, the Canadian again finished second to Stephenson, the time being given as 71.5 seconds again, and although he appeared to have a grand chance to win, he was, or at least got second place in the final, the Canadian decided to stay out of the final heat and lay up for the 70-yard special, as he knew that if he was placed in the first heat of this race, that he would have to run in the final heat, making two more races for him. However, all his trouble and care was for naught. Away to a beautiful start in the first heat of the 70-yard special, the Canadian set a terrific pace for about sixty yards, when J. J. Archer, of the Irish A. C., and J. W. Reed, of the Xavier A. C., caught him, and the three raced to the wire together, finishing in the good time of 7.5 seconds. Kerr looked to have the race by a narrow margin, and quite satisfied that he had either run first or second, and thus qualified for the final, he walked off to the dressing room to rest up for the final, only to hear the officials place Archer first and Reed second.

It looks as if Montreal Victorias have the Interprovincial amateur championship at their mercy. The old war horses Russell Bowie and Blair Russell are performing like two-year-olds.

Tim Flood, the centrepiece of the most important incident in the history of Toronto baseball, is sought for manager by the Savannah, Ga., team. When he was asked whether he expected to play regularly during the coming season, Manager Kelley of Toronto remarked: "I certainly do. The leg which bothered me more or less last season is all right again. I played in 107 games in 1909, and hope to be in regularly during 1910. We will carry some additional men this season, now that the salary and player limit has been abolished, and they will be men who will not weaken the team when they are called upon in emergencies."

Bruce Ridpath, an old Cobalt favorite, on Saturday received a great reception from the crowd, as did also Harry Smith, who showed his palmy day form again, but was out of place on the wing, and missed several goals that undoubtedly would have been his had he been in centre.

KNOTT'S TEAM WON TWO

Second Game of Y. M. C. A. Bowling Tournament was Held Last Night—Grant was High Man

The second game in the Y.M.C.A. bowling league took place last evening, when D. Knott's team took two out of three from Grant. Though winning two games Knott's total was less than that of the losers. Grant was high man with a total of 350. The scores were:

Jameson	149	104	95-348
Dykes	117	147	101-264
Aldrich	122	119	122-239
Bolander	133	148	132-433
D. Knott	103	106	136-389
Total	644	684	551 1901

CY. YOUNG
A RAWNCHER

The Veteran Pitcher of the American League Purchases a Vast Tract of Land in Oregon

Portland, Ore., Feb. 11.—Denton T. Young, better known as "Cy," the veteran pitcher of the Cleveland American league team, is about to follow the footsteps of Fielder Jones and become an Oregon ranchman.

Young arrived here the other afternoon and announced that he was on his way to visit his brother, who is a rancher and stock raiser at Elgin, in the eastern part of Oregon. He says that his brother has been ambitious to have him inspect some valuable lands near Elgin with a view to purchasing, and to Fielder Jones "Cy" admitted he would be likely to make Oregon his home as soon as he is through with baseball.

"Cy" Young met Charles Armstrong, who formerly was his hooey partner with the Boston Americans, and wanted "Buster" to go to eastern Oregon with him.

"I like this country," said Young to a party, among whom were Armstrong, Jones, Walter McCreedy, and "Spec" Mackensen, the last named being the Portland pitcher who goes to the Cleveland club, and his brother says he would like to buy a ranch and run opposition to Fielder Jones as a western timber and ranch king.

Fielder Jones and "Cy" had a long, quiet chat during which Jones told the Clevelanders of the investments he has made and those made by Billy Sullivan. Young left tonight for Elgin, whence he will go to Hot Springs, to train for the season. He said he would return west in the fall.

SPARKLETS

Glints From the Sporting Anvil

Three important hockey matches are scheduled for this evening. At Hailybury the Shamrocks will be the visiting team; Wanderers are Canadiana play in Montreal and at Ottawa the game of the season will take place with Renfrew and Ottawa as the contestants. The Capital will have a full account of the Renfrew-Ottawa game, as seen by a staff correspondent.

Bob Tinslie, the famous National League umpire, is participating in the Winnipeg bonspiel. The Tribune of that city says: "If a thorough knowledge of baseball, gained from many years' experience as an umpire and previously as a ball player, counted for ought, the success of the St. Thomas rink would be remarkable. Skip Cameron has brought with him 'Bob' Tinslie, one of the National League umpires, and at one time regarded as the world's premier pitcher. He is known to baseball wherever the game is played."

GREAT ANXIETY
IN OTTAWA

Those in Front of the Bulletin Boards Thought Cobalt was Going to Win the Game Last Week

An unusual scene took place in the Arena where Cliffside were tumbling in the goals so fast on Montreal. The boys on the electric score board lost count. In the press box, an operator was receiving the scores from Montreal, Cobalt and Toronto. There were still five minutes to play in the Arena game, when Cobalt broke the 3-3 tie in the north country. This score was posted at Eddie McNeill's new board in the north end of the rink. The majority of the spectators flocked to the press box and crowded around the operator trying to decipher the tick, tick of the instrument.

"Here's a flash from Cobalt," shouts the operator. Everybody climbs on the shoulder of the fellow in front of him and holds his breath.

"Ottawa scores!"

And the bunch fairly yelled their heads off. When it was four minutes to play, everyone forgot about the Cliffside-Montreal game and joined the gathering at the telegraph instrument.

Among those waiting for word of the deciding goal were some of the Hailybury players.

"I'll bet Harry Smith scores the winning goal," said Nick Bawli.

"No, Walsh will get it," said Horace Gant.

A Free Press reporter called Freddie Lake to push in the winner and sure enough the flash game Lake had broken the tie and put Ottawa in front. There was a great yell when the winning goal was announced.

AFFILIATE WITH
KENNEL CLUB

Edmonton Owners of Prize Dogs will have a New Building at the Exhibition Grounds

The Exhibition Association will, most probably enlarge the premium list of dogs at the coming fair, with a view to placing the Edmonton Dog Show on its proper level as the dog show of the capital city of Alberta. The association will affiliate with the Canadian Kennel Club, so that winners' classes will be given and those placed first in these classes will score points toward a championship of the C.K.C.

We hear it is also the intention of the Exhibition Association to build an up-to-date dog show building on the new fair grounds. After all this care and preparation on the part of the association it is surely up to the dog men of this city to form a club now.

For there are lots of good dogs in Edmonton and district and there is no reason why we should not have as good a dog show as any in the West, and if we can make up the list why so much the more credit accruing to us.

Let the doggy men and sporting men show their grit and stand well behind the exhibition association, which is leaving no stone unturned that will bring Edmonton to the front.

"If Murphy will agree to give me my release at the close of the 1910 baseball season I would be glad to play with the Chicago Cubs this season for nothing. An absolute release would mean $10,000 to me." That was the language, said: "But there's no chance." "What do you believe Murphy will do with you if you are reinstated?" Kling was asked last night. "I believe he'll trade me," Kling replied. "I believe that's what he's figuring on." "If you had your choice which team in the National League would you play with this season?" was the next question shot at John. "Well, you see," and Kling drew a bit closer and spoke in a confidential way, "I would not mind playing in Chicago. Those Cubs look awful good."

The Waterloo club backers claimed to have won $1,000 at Brantford Saturday night. They gave odds.

SOME IMMENSE
WAGERS TO-NIGHT

Renfrew Magnates have $15,000 Already up—Ottawa Supporters are Betting on a Doubled Score

Ottawa, Feb. 12.—Ted Dey, manager of the Arena, stated today that the Ottawa-Renfrew game tonight would establish a new Canadian record for attendance, with about $900 paid admissions. There is lively betting on the game. The Renfrew magnates, M. J. O'Brien and G. J. Barnett are said to have $15,000 on the game at even money, backing their team to win, while Ottawans back the champions at odds of 10 to 6 and 1 to 2 they double the score. Ottawans will play Wanderers a two-game series in New York at the end of the season.

On Monday evening there will be an important meeting of the Strathcona hockey club for the purpose of re-organizing the senior team and preparing for a series of games with outside teams before the season closes. Welcome home, Lynn and Kent.

RED DEER IS IN TEARS

A Lacombe Paper says that it is Just a Whistling Station with a Tenth Kate Hockey Team

The Lacombe Globe says: "There is weeping and wailing among the alleged sports of Red Deer, their sorrow being caused by the failure of their team to win the first place in the hockey league by protests. Red Deer recognized right at the start that their team had no business mixing up with real hockey players and as we have in Lacombe, and in a desperate attempt to win a trophy to which they had no right, commenced protesting every game they played with any outside team. They fell down with a dull, sickening thud in their protest against Cook of the Lacombe team, which was heard at Edmonton on Saturday. When the Red Deer leaves were asked by the trial board to produce evidence against Cook's standing it was discovered that they were not there with the goods. They had never heard of Cook before, and therefore thought he must be a ringer. They did not stop to think that it takes the news a long time to get to Red Deer, even if the trains do stop at that point now."

Notwithstanding the nice little lecture delivered by the pin-head who has charge of the Red Deer News sporting column, in last week's issue of that weighty journal, we beg to state that Lacombe's hockey team is composed of players who reside in Lacombe, and every man on the team holds a permanent position in town. Red Deer, in spite of their nerve in entering protests against legitimate teams, has at least two men on the line-up who cannot qualify under the residence clause of the hockey rules. They have not heard our team do any kicking, as we never took them seriously in the game, and even if they had no good imported players on their line-up there would have been no kick. The Lacombe hockey boys can take a defeat when it is handed out to them—they are sports enough for that. We hope we will hear no more roars from Red Deer. Action such as they have taken will soon spoil the game.

For the benefit of anyone who does not know where Red Deer is, we might say that it is near the chief whistling post on the C. & E., between Penhold and Blackfalds."

Tommy Longboat, fresh from his defeat of Smallwood at Pittsburg, is on the war path again, and wants to meet his arch-enemy, Alf Shrubel. The latter has agreed to meet the big Onondaga at Riverdale Rink, Toronto, over a distance of eighteen miles. A dirt track will be put down in the rink at the request of the runners. All that now remains to be done is to complete the minor details of the match, which may be run on Saturday, February 19th.

WHEN THE CHINKS
PLAY HOCKEY

Who Sprinkled Starch on the Ice?—A Cooked Deal in Connection with the Second Game for the Togo Cup

The story emanating from Ottawa about the Chinese taking up the game of hockey has great possibilities. Who knows but that, in, say, 1920, a crowd of enthusiastic Edmontonians may be gathered at the fine new C.P.R. station at Ninth street to bid farewell to a team of Chinks leaving to play their Ottawa brethren for the Togo Cup. With what undivided interest will we read all the details of the trip. How they travelled in the private car "Celestial," and the enthusiastic welcome received all along the line from the laundry population of the different cities. Then the day of the game arrives and frenzied correspondents wire: Lee Hing has had an offer of 5,000,000 yen from the Shanghai Mouse Chasers, to finish the season," or again, "Pong Pong Ling announces that this will probably be his last year in hockey. His important position as chief shirt marker in the B. C. Laundry will require his undivided attention in the future." And then after the game, the report comes along that "the Ottawa Chinks sprinkled starch on the ice and made the going very heavy. The terrible crime was discovered in a strange way. Jim Mah Wah, the speedy rover of the challengers, measured his length on the ice. By the time the whistle blew for the end of the first half Jim Mah's sweater was so hard from the starch gathered up off the ice that he was unable to bend over." This was another dark deed in hockey annals revealed.

It will certainly be another phase of the yellow peril if the Chinese take up hockey. With their population of five hundred million odd (we can't just remember the exact figures), what a field they would have for drawing their material from! Then perhaps after winning the Togo Cup they would challenge for and carry back to China the Stanley Cup, and then think of the expense Edmonton citizens would be put to to send a challenging team after the silverware.

But our pipe has gone out—so what's the use of dreaming any longer? John L. has signed up for another fight. John is a glutton for punishment.

The limited ice area at Cobalt was against the team work of the Stanley Cup holders, and they were never able to get going, both teams relying on individual work. Walsh and Lake were the pick of the Ottawans, while LeSueur, in goal, was also a big factor in the downfall of Cobalt. Cobalt led twice, having the cup holders 1-0 at one stage and 4-3 at another.

WAILS FROM THE WILDERNESS

Lacombe Goes up Against "a Picked Team of Pros. Gathered from the Whole Province." A Sad Story

We used to suppose that Ottawa was the hockey centre of Canada, but find we were mistaken. Lacombe, Alta., is the real centre, at least a hasty glance through the last issue of the Western Globe would lead to that supposition. The paper fairly teems with hockey news. A column and a half story headed by the caption "Calgary and Edmonton defeat Lacombe," sounded interesting as we hadn't heard anything about another Edmonton team playing there since the Deacons' inhospitable reception in that burg, but on delving further into the hideous details, we found that this was only another way of saying that Stetler defeated Lacombe.

Lacombe arrived in Stettler with a sturdy bunch of 500 supporters and then found, to quote the Globe, "the Stettler bunch of near sports had gathered from the four corners of the earth and had the nerve to say it was the Stettler team. Riggs, Gill and Lee were the only ones on the team who had ever seen Stettler until a short time before the day of the match. The other members of the professional aggregation were: Kent, Strathcona; Lynn, Strathcona; Melrose, Calgary Tigers; Sutherland, Tofield. The Stettlers had also brought in McDonald of Calgary, but on the try-out he proved to be too slow, and Lee was retained in his position."

A delay of an hour followed and after Lacombe absolutely refused to go on the ice against this terrible team of "professionals," Stettler defaulted the league game and it was decided to play an exhibition which, as reported last week, was won by Stettler, 4 to 3. But to quote again:

"Lacombe has nothing to feel bad about in this defeat. We played our own team, all amateurs, against the picked hockey players of the province, and held them down tight."

It is to laugh. "The picked hockey players of the province" sounds rather funny to be applied to the Stettler line-up. But still Lacombe has to account for the defeat in some way.

Speaking of hockey, when is the Lacombe team coming up to Edmonton to play the return game with Deacons? There are a lot of people here who sulked get the chance of seeing a "real good" team perform and a visit from these Lacombe wonders would be a veritable tit-bit for hockey lovers. Come on up, Lacombe, the ice is fine, and please do not leave Thornton behind.

Rocket Power and Billy Baird are making a great hit in Waterloo, and vie in popularity with Seagrams '87.

RULES and CONDITIONS of the CONTEST

Read Carefully

WHO MAY ENTER THIS GREAT PRIZE CONTEST

Any married or single lady or gentleman, girl or boy, of any age residing in Edmonton or Strathcona, or within the circulation zone of The Daily Capital, Saturday News or Alberta Homestead, is eligible to enter the contest. It is not necessary to be a subscriber or even to subscribe for either of the above papers in order to become a candidate.

Candidates may nominate themselves, or may be nominated by their friends.

The Contest Department reserves the right to reject any nomination, without giving any reason therefor, or to change any rule for cause.

No member of employer's family or employees of The Daily Capital, Saturday News or Alberta Homestead, or members of employees' families will be eligible as a candidate.

THE VOTING

The voting will be done by coupons clipped from the Daily Capital, Saturday News and Alberta Homestead and by certificates issued upon the payment of a subscription to the above papers. The coupons will be published in the Daily Capital, Saturday News and Alberta Homestead, and will be good for votes when neatly cut out, name of candidate filled in and brought or mailed to the contest department before the expiry date upon them. Certificates for votes will be issued as per schedule, published elsewhere in this announcement.

Votes cannot be bought, but are issued free when asked for when subscriptions are paid.

Candidates will be allowed to accept subscription money and give temporary receipts therefor. When the money is turned in at the Contest Department, a regular receipt will be given or mailed to the subscriber.

THE DISTRICTS

Each district is separate and distinct in itself, and the vote cast for candidates in one district has no bearing whatever upon the number of votes cast for candidates in other districts, except so far as the grand prizes are concerned. The grand prizes will be awarded to the two candidates receiving the greatest number of votes, irrespective of district. The district prizes will be awarded to the highest voters in each district (not winning a grand prize). The candidate having the highest vote will be allowed first choice, the one having second highest vote second choice, and so on. Grand Prize winners are not eligible to win a district prize, as no candidate will be allowed to win two prizes.

Candidates may "compete" from where they reside or where they are employed.

Votes are not transferable. Candidates may solicit subscriptions in other districts than the one from which they compete, or any place in the postal union.

AWARDING OF PRIZES

At the close of the contest the returns will be counted by a committee of well-known business men from the various districts.

The decision of the Contest Committee in making awards shall be final and conclusive.

All contestants in accepting nomination must agree to the above rules and regulations.

In the event of a tie between two candidates for any of the prizes, the value of such will be equally divided or another prize of equal value added.

WHAT DO YOU DO WHEN YOU ENTER

The first thing to do is to enter your name as a candidate. Then either call or phone the Contest Department for receipt book and supplies. Ask for more than one receipt book if you have friends who will work for you. Then let your friends know that are in the contest and request them to save their votes for you.

HOW TO WIN A VALUABLE PRIZE

Send in your nomination. You will find nomination blank at the bottom of this advertisement. The nomination blank is good for 1,000 votes, which gives you a fine start.

Then enlist the aid of your friends and neighbors. Let everyone know you are a candidate before they promise their help to a more enterprising candidate.

Where the Shops Beckon

With the advent of the penitential season on Wednesday last, Society and house mothers generally have begun to settle down and turn their thoughts to more domestic things, among others to spring sewing in preparation for the summer season, and the replenishing of the family linen closet.

Happily enough the leisure to attend to these things and the bargain season walk hand-in-hand, and for the past few days I have noticed any number of prominent women crowding the shops and turning over with the greatest interest all the fascinating bargains and new spring goods, that look so exquisitely dainty and spring-like when they are first exposed to view. For a number of months past "Purvis's" have been building up a splendid trade. Department by department has been taken in hand and overhauled and brought right up to date. All old stock has been sacrificed for a song, and bright new goods, and the best of everything that money could buy has been substituted. The result is that every day sees fresh fashions, and better satisfied customers thronging the store until the best of everything in the dry-goods line, and the name of Purvis's have come to be synonymous.

Among the most attractive of the departments at this time is the Wifery Wear, where a land office business is being done. Never have women's undergarments been daintier, nor a finer display been made, than in this progressive store's present sale of white goods. Prices are away out of proportion to the excellence of the make and the materials employed, and Milady, who has a careful eye to the purse-strings, is laying in a liberal supply against the rapidly approaching summer weather. In the shirt-waist and ready-to-wear sections there are dozens of attractive bargains, while down-stairs in the dress-goods department the pretty fresh linens, ginghams, poplins, etc., are selling like the proverbial hot-cakes. Now, of course, is the time to get these things made, particularly as the choice of these materials is widest at the present time, and the new fashions are all just in.

I saw some wonderful glove bargains for both men and women on sale today, 69c and 99c a pair. Another special feature was a smartly tailored white blouse at $1.25, and splendid value for the money. Linens and towels and household napery generally are finding a steadily increasing sale. One needs such quantities of sheets and table linens to run a house daintily nowadays, it means constant replenishing.

On the centre of the store are tables of bargains that attract crowds of purchasers. Remnants of everything from ends of ginghams to make little dresses for the tiny tots, up to all sorts of splendid offerings suitable for the house-mother and the grown-up members of the family.

Follow the crowd to Purvis's, and get some of the good things they offer.

PEGGY.

AT THE EMPIRE

The San Francisco Opera Company gave a good performance, from a laughing standpoint, at the Empire Theatre last night, and will repeat the same bill this afternoon and tonight. Those who enjoy pure, unadorned fun should not fail to visit with the San Francisco Opera Company in "The Mascot." Next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday matinee and night will mark the last appearances in Edmonton of The San Francisco Opera Company. Manager Kyle announces that he will present The San Francisco Opera Company in "Pannas" and the Empire's regular vaudeville bill, which has some most excellent features, all for one price of admission, 50c, 75c and $1. This is a reduction of 25 cents over last week's prices for the double bill.

ST. MARY'S, EDMONTON, WIN

An exciting game of hockey was played last evening between the St. Mary's of Edmonton, and a Strathcona team, in which the Saints, by superior stick handling and condition won out by 4 to 2. The St. Mary's lined up as follows: Goal, R. Perry; point, Dick Caravan; cover, V. Elliott; rover, Chas. Dowling; centre, John Koah; left, McCaster; right, Eddie Kelly. Referee, Earl Dowling.

A return game will be played in Strathcona on Monday evening between 7 and 8 p.m.

THE DAY IN STRATHCONA

Budget of News from the City on the South Bank of the River

The annual meeting of the Strathcona Liberal Association will be held in the Baalim Block on Thursday, February 17th, at eight o'clock.

On Monday evening in the basement of the Methodist Church a valentine social will be held. A good programme has been provided and a pleasant time is anticipated.

Miss S. Craig has returned to her home after her recent illness, during which she was at the hospital. Although not completely recovered, Miss Craig is convalescent and will soon, it is hoped, regain her accustomed health.

In the Metropolitan Methodist Church on Sunday, Rev. H. Gordon will preach on the subject "Where Are You?" in the morning, and in the evening "Daniel, the Faithful Young Man" will be the subject. At the close of the morning service the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be dispensed. After the evening service a social and musical hour will be spent in the basement.

It is announced that the prompt payment of the electric light bills will insure a decrease in the rate.

A meeting of the hockey club is called for Monday night. Strathcona and Lloydminster are to play off for the championship of the northern and eastern districts. The winners will play off with the winners in the southern district.

The hockey game last evening between Varsity and S.C.I. proved somewhat of a surprise to the fans. It was generally conceded that the S.C.I. would win this game, as they won the previous game between the two teams by a margin of two goals. This time the score was reversed: Varsity won by a score of 10 to 2. Varsity took the lead after about five minutes of play and held it throughout the game. At half time the score was 5 to 3 for Varsity. At half time Latche laid off on account of a slight injury and McKean went off to even up. At times there was a splendid exhibition of hockey but at others much rough play and rough-house tactics were adopted. The game was marred by spectators getting down on the ice during a mix-up. This certainly should not have been allowed.

For S.C.I. Clarke in goal played an excellent game. Wilson and Sutherland also played well. For Varsity Blayney starred in goal in the second half. Beck, Dixon and Taylor played a good game also. The teams lined up as follows:

Referee—Jas. Humeson; 2nd half, Rogers. Judge of play, Reid.

The Hospital Aid met last evening to confer with the chairman of the Hospital Committee, but no business was transacted on account of there not being a quorum.

Curling Results.

Lord Strathcona Cup: A. J. McLean 8; Kelly 7. Kinnear 4; Downes 11. McMahon 14; Douglas 7. Torgerson beat Baines (default). Walsh 5; Loughlin 13.

In the Picaudilly Cup the finals were played and resulted in Douglas winning from Congdon in a very exciting game by the close score of 9 to 8.

Today's games—

Marriott vs. Duggan. Millar vs. P. Bowen. Weir vs. Fuller. McElroy vs. Davies.

It is reported definitely that twenty citizens have donated $30 apiece to purchase the moose formerly belonging to Mr. Brick for Strathcona Park.

At the Baptist Church on Sunday evening the pastor will give a sermon on the thoughts, to be derived from Halley's comet.

STANDING OF CANDIDATES IN THE CAPITAL'S CONTEST

The First Published Figures of the Capital's Prize Contest Show That Many Candidates Have Made a Good Beginning

Today you see the first standing of candidates entered so far in the Capital's $1,750 prize voting contest. You know the number and value of the prizes, and if you have an idea that you would like to win one of your contests, for it certainly was a great pleasure for me. I was greatly benefited by the work in the contest. It seems like old times to see the voting coupon again. I'm sure if many in Edmonton knew what I know now, they wouldn't hesitate, but send in their nomination and get busy.

A Satisfied Contestant

The following letter was received from a candidate who completed successfully in the Lethbridge Herald's contest, which was conducted by the manager of the Capital's contest and ended on January 10.

Lethbridge, Alta., Feb. 4, 1910.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Dice: I received the Capital and read every word about the contest. It just makes my heart ache to know I can't work in it. I certainly enjoyed every day of the contest here, and I know I could win one of those splendid prizes the Capital is giving if I only lived nearby. However, I shall never forget the votes received up till 9 o'clock on publication day will be counted and published.

Plenty of room for more active candidates. Remember, there are seven prizes, four in each district in Edmonton, three in Strathcona, and four in the outside districts, as well as the two grand prizes, for which all candidates compete.

The price of the Daily Capital, Saturday News and Alberta Homestead and votes given:

The Capital is a nice looking paper, and I hope you will send me a copy occasionally, as I am greatly interested in the contest, although not a candidate. I remain, as ever,

Yours very truly,

ROSE H.

The original of the above letter can be seen at the Contest Department. From present indications Edmonton will have several "Rose H.s." in the Capital's contest. Miss Rose H. won the second grand prize at Lethbridge.

Tri-Weekly Standing.

The standing of the candidates will be given on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays for the present.

First Grand Prize—Six Hundred Dollar Nordheimer Piano
Second Grand Prize—Four Hundred Fifty Dollar "Boudoir" Nordheimer Piano

SPECIAL PRIZE—Solid Gold Watch awarded February 24 to the candidate bringing in the most money for NEW subscriptions up to that date closed. This is clearly indicated by the great number of strong financial concerns that have been registered and incorporated since the last report was issued. During the year 200 companies were incorporated under the provisions of the Companies Ordinance representing an aggregate capitalization of $10,386,000. In the same period 80 foreign companies were registered under the Foreign Companies Ordinance representing $83,430,000 capital. These figures are largely in excess of 1908 when the aggregate capitalization was only $31,312,000 and the total aggregate capital for both provincial and foreign companies was only $43,299,950.

The department revenue for the year was $12,083.34 as against $23,949.07 for 1908, an increase of $18,135.67. This amount is largely in excess of any previous year.

Sources of revenue are given as: antienter, pedlar, marriage and automobile licenses, certificates under provincial seal, companies, foreign companies, incorporation fees, registration fees, gazette fees. The total revenue for four months of 1909, twelve months of 1906, 1907, 1908 and 1909 was $12,550,001.

The department can in the face of increased business show a decreased expenditure for 1909 as compared with 1908. In the latter year the total departmental expenditure including salaries was $4,083,774, while for 1909 the expenditure was only $4,048,811, this being $37,963 less than the amount voted by the Legislature.

Prior to an amendment of the Companies Ordinance at the last session of the legislature, the issuing of a prospectus was optional and experience showed that there was a great tendency on the part of company promoters to take advantage of this apparent weakness of the Ordinance. An amendment, introduced at the last session, had the effect of discouraging the incorporation of any but legitimate concerns.

A lengthy appendix to the report gives particulars as to the objects, powers, capital stock, etc., of the companies incorporated during the year.

The weather throughout the Prairie Provinces has been generally fine; cold in Manitoba and more moderate farther west.

Forecast—Manitoba and Saskatchewan: Fine and moderately cold today and on Sunday. Alberta: Fine; much change in temperature.

As a preliminary to the formation of a Catholic Temperance League in Edmonton similar to that which has been established in Calgary and Lethbridge, Rev. Father Lewis, O.M.I., of Calgary, preached a sermon last evening in St. Joseph's Church, Tenth street, on the subject of Temperance. He spoke with great feeling for the young men of the West who have come out from the East to make their way. He said that they were alone here, away from home and could not afford to daily with temptation of this sort. No man who indulged in liquor only now and then could be sure that he would not develop into a drunkard, and a drunkard put a fearful handicap on himself and his family. He advised the young man to eschew the use of strong drink in any form and to do so without delay.

MORE QUERIES IN THE HOUSE

incorporation of the Western Canada Fire Insurance Co., amendments to the Lethbridge charter and the amendment of the charter of the Diamond Coal Co., enabling it to take over a spur line of railway. John A. McDougall presented a petition asking for incorporation of the Salvation Army of Edmonton as a religious institution.

Before adjournment J. R. Boyle, member for Sturgeon, gave notice that on Tuesday next he would move in the House for the return of all papers, orders-in-council, agreements, specified plans, profiles and location plans of the Alberta and Great Waterways Railway. He also gave notice that he will require the government to lay on the table of the House the subscribed and paid-up capital of said company, what price was paid for the bonds, who purchased the bonds, and what was the total amount realized. A third request was whether a government railway engineer had been appointed, and if so, who had received the appointment, and when.

STANDING COMMITTEES

The standing committees of the House have been struck as follows:

Privileges and Elections—Messrs. Rutherford, Cross, Bennett, Cote, Woolf, Boyle, Campbell and Puffer.

The report of the provincial secretary's department appears in another column.

Renfrew vs. Ottawa

(Special to the Capital.)

Ottawa, Feb. 12.—Russell Lowie and Duncan Campbell will act as officials in tonight's game. Renfrew line up will not be known until players appear on the ice. It is pretty certain that Millar and Whitcroft will hold down wings. Each player will receive bonus to escape penalties and play a clean game. Excitement runs high among Ottawa fans.

THE ELEVATOR CITY

Secures Reduction in Freight Rates—Postoffice to be Built

Wetaskiwin, Feb. 12.—The new freight tariff which went into effect a few days ago makes a material reduction in the freight rates from eastern points to Wetaskiwin. The tariff makes a reduction of 18 cents on first-class, 15 cents on second-class, 12 cents on third-class, 9 cents on fourth-class and 8 cents on fifth and sixth-class merchandise. The shorter haul from Winnipeg via Saskatoon and Hardisty is the cause of the reduction. The new tariff gives the Elevator City the same rate as Edmonton and Calgary.

Word has been received from J. M. Douglas, M.P., for this constituency, that an appropriation of $10,000 has been made towards the new post office to be erected here, and that this amount will be expended this summer. The site was purchased last fall, and is the property where the Imperial Bank now stands.

THE ROSPIGLIOSI MARRIAGE CASE

The Rospiogliosi marriage case is being tried by the High Court of the of the Roman Rota. As a rule the bench of this tribunal consists of 3 ecclesiastical judges. This case, being regarded as one of great importance, will be tried by six judges. The sentence will be in the form of an answer either affirmative or negative, whether the marriage, contracted in Washington by the Princess, is null.

Princess Rospiogliosi is an American, born in New Orleans in 1870. She was Miss Mary Jennings Reid, and in her youth went to Washington, where she married Mr. Parkhurst, of Bangor, Me., who later divorced her, keeping their two children for himself. She next went to Rome and soon became engaged to Prince Giuseppe Rospiogliosi, head of a famous old historic house, dating back to 1330.

but the church, not recognizing divorce, refused the Prince's application.

Both being Catholics they wished to be married by a religious ceremony. They were therefore married civilly at the chateau of Lamprocchio, on September 2, 1901. They continued, however, to seek a religious marriage, and again applied to the church authorities to declare the union with Mr. Parkhurst null, since Miss Reid had married without a dispensation and Mr. Parkhurst had not been baptized in any religion. The latter circumstance would have made the Parkhurst wedding invalid in the eyes of the church. The Propaganda decided against the application to nullify the Washington marriage.

A daughter was born to Princess Rospiogliosi in Rome on August 2, 1902, and a son on August 27, 1907. The latter will inherit the title and estate. The Princess was practically boycotted both by the Church authorities and by Roman society, as well as by the Rospiogliosi family. Prince Rospiogliosi then appealed to Cardinal Marinielli, papal delegate in the United States, and he reported to the Pope in favor of the annulment of the Princess' former marriage. The Pope, after long hesitation, finally agreed to reopen the case and ordered the Rota to review the evidence.

STONEY PLAIN WITH NOSTONE

District got its Name Through Bad Feeling Between Sioux and Crees

A GLANCE BACK AT THE PAST

Of Rich Territory West of Edmonton which Claims the Fattest Babies and the Best Looking Girls in Alberta

It is often remarked by people, newly come to Stoney Plain, that it is strange that a country without a sign of a single stone, should be given the compromising name that it now bears. At the risk of being somewhat tiresome, I will undertake to explain how it was that the whole country west from Edmonton was called Stoney Plain.

In a general way the name is historical rather than descriptive. Long ago, probably three hundred years ago, probably some three hundred years, a small band of Sioux Indians wandering far from their home land on the plains of the Dakotas came to the land where the more heavily timbered country of western Alberta was joined by the prairie of eastern Alberta. There they found buffalo in abundance, and where there was plenty of buffalo there was lots to eat, and it's a world-old story that where the stomach is full the heart is glad, so they camped right there.

Now the native Cree in all this country is the Cree Indian, and the Cree dreaded the encroachments of the Sioux. Of course the Cree Indian loved his country as well as his wife, so he gave battle to the Sioux who proving himself the harder hitter, and and by Roman society, as well as by the Rospiogliosi family.

Prince Rospiogliosi then appealed to Cardinal Marinielli, papal delegate in the United States, and he reported to the Pope in favor of the annulment of the Princess' former marriage. The Pope, after long hesitation, finally agreed to reopen the case and ordered the Rota to review the evidence.

the better fighter, drove the Cree away. Thus it was that the Sioux stole the country of the Cree; let us hope that he did not steal his wife also, but it is reported that he contented himself by stealing the daughters of the vanquished Cree.

Let us see what all this means. It means that a strong body of men, wandering at will from the Mississippi river to the fastnesses of the far north, picked on this country as their choice of the many places they had been at, as the place where conditions for gaining a livelihood were the best they had found; where the buffalo attracted by the luxuriant growth of native grass on the prairie, gave them food, and the surrounding woods gave them protection from the storms and furnished fuel for the fire in the winter.

Giving a Bad Name

But I am digressing. How did Stoney Plain get its name? After the Cree Indian had been driven from this Happy Hunting Ground, he was naturally sore about it. Who would not be? And he began calling the victorious Sioux hard names, and the hardest name that he could think of was "Stoney." But the Sioux did not care, he still held the country against all comers and today the descendants are still living at the west end of the plain, on the shore of that beautiful sheet of water White Lake, or as they now call it, Lake Wabamun. They are still called "Stonies" and the whole country west from Edmonton is Stoney Plain, the former home and hunting ground of the Stoney Indian.

The first authentic account of a white man being on Stoney Plain was a hundred and fifty years ago, when the Hudson's Bay Company stationed a man with a band of cattle at a little lake called Sweet Water Lake, in the centre of Stoney Plain prairie, within a stone's throw of old Stoney Plain post office. But the Stoney Indians proved true to the reputation earned by their forefathers and gave the white man so much to bother about that after one summer's trial the Hudson's Bay people relinquished their attempt to occupy the land of the Stonies, and pastured their cattle elsewhere.

The First White Settlement.

The first permanent white settlement of Stoney Plain was made in 1881.

by John A. Macpherson, present member of the provincial parliament, and his old friend Alex McNab. Next year came Robert Brecher. McNab died in the fall of 1892. Brecher died in the fall of 1899. The first white child born on Stoney Plain was Annie McDonald, daughter of John L. McDonald, the first postmaster of Stoney Plain. She is now living at Golden Spike and is the wife of Mr. Fred Wilkin.

The first public meeting that I was at in Stoney Plain was a political meeting called by the Hon. Frank Oliver, present minister of the Interior. Frank Oliver at that time was the member of the territorial legislature for the Edmonton district, which at that time included Stoney Plain. This meeting was called at the home of John A. Macpherson, in the fall of 1892. Among those present beside Mr. Oliver and Macpherson, were Philip Miller, John L. McDonald, Geo. Sutherland, Sam Eckels and Erick Groat.

After the Hon. Frank Oliver had fixed up the political fences to his satisfaction, and he is an adept in fixing political fences, and Mr. Miller had given a splendid opinion on the good roads proposition, I ventured the suggestion that as there was no post office west of Edmonton, that the present was an opportune time to make a move to get mail facilities at Stoney Plain. But back was on our side and the next summer McDonald and myself were appointed to go to Edmonton to bring the first mail sack west from Edmonton. But neither of us owned a horse. We were rich in hopes of the future but short on horses at that particular time, so we went on foot six miles to Johnnie Turner's where we borrowed a horse and then on to Eckel's homestead, where we borrowed a buggy, and thus we got the mail sack. So the post office was born and its name was Stoney Plain.

Sectional Differences

Unexpected trouble arose. Stoney Plain is not Utopia and diversions inevitably followed differences: Stoney Plain East versus Stoney Plain West. Stoney Plain East (now Spruce Grove) represented to the postal authorities that inasmuch as the first white settlement was made at that place, citing the residency of McPherson, that the name properly belonged to them, and as they were soon to apply for a post office, they wished the name Stoney Plain to be reserved for them. So we of the west were notified by the postal department that the name Stoney Plain for our post office was cancelled and we must choose a new name. Again the old Stoney Indian blood was up, and like the Stoney Indians of old we had it our own way. We would not relinquish the name "Stoney Plain." "What we have we hold."

We cited these facts to the department:

- 1st. Early settlement of Hudson's Bay stock men.
- 2nd. We denied the so-called residency of McPherson, inasmuch as McPherson was a bachelor, whereas our man (McDonald) had a wife and had children born there.
- 3rd. We claimed we were at the geographical centre of a large district known by the common name Stoney Plain.
- 4th. We had got a move on and had established a post office whereas the Stoney Plain east post office was only a project still in embryo.

Anyway, the scheme worked and we kept the name, and like newly married people lived happy ever after. But what's in a name, anyway? There is not a stone on Stoney Plain as big as a peanut. The name is entirely historical, not descriptive. We have, however, on Stoney Plain, level prairie and hill and dale covered with timber. We have running streams and beautiful lakes. We have an abundance of rain during the growing season and happily a cessation from rain during harvest. The soil is easily cultivated and when properly worked produces a wonderful growth of straw and grain. We have two transcontinental lines of railways. We have luxuriant natural grasses. We have timber and coal close at hand. We have the natural conditions for making many prosperous happy homes. Is it any wonder that we grow fatter babies and better looking girls than any other district in Alberta? And we've got the goods right here on Stoney Plain—"Old Timer," in Stoney Plain Advertiser.

Mrs. W. G. Harrison returned on Thursday from Moscow, Idaho.

Mrs. G. W. Marriot and her young son left today for an extended visit to the coast.

R. D. Wilson, post office inspector for the Moose Jaw division, is in the twin Cities today on private business.

Speaker Fisher of the Legislature went to his home in Cochrane this morning and will return on Monday afternoon.

George Ross, I.S.O., of Toronto, chief post office superintendent of Canada, passed through the city last evening.

Judge Noel has returned from holding court at Lac Ste. Anne, Athabasca Landing, and other northern points. Five or six small debt cases were disposed of.

K. W. MacKenzie, Dominion land agent, left over the C.N.R. last evening for Chicago and other eastern points. Mr. MacKenzie has not been in the best of health lately and will enjoy a three weeks' holiday trip.

Mr. B. P. Alley of the Bank of Commerce left town on Thursday last on an extensive three months' trip for the benefit of his health. He proposes to spend most of the time round his home in Prince Edward Island, going also to the Pacific coast for a month. He is being relieved by Mr. H. G. Matthews, who is also a P. E. Islander—Langian Mail.

R. A. Darker, of Calgary, secretary of the Alberta Fish and Game Protective Association, called on Mr. Duncan Marshall, minister of agriculture, this morning to lay before him the amendments to the Alberta Game Laws proposed by the association. No one is more active than Mr. Darker in securing protection for the game of the province from reckless sportsmen.

Rev. Robt. Pearson will preach at both services at 11 and 1 o'clock in Grace Methodist church, corner of Sutherland and Kinsistino avenue tomorrow. The subject of the morning sermon will be "Preparation for a Revival" and the evening subject "The Warning of Christ."

A meeting was held in the Y.M.C.A. last evening to elect a committee to wait on the city council and Super. Taylor re extending the street railway to the Exhibition Grounds. In spite of notices being sent to all clubs in the city last night's meeting was very poorly attended. However, as a quorum was present the following committee was appointed: Messrs. Pat Dunn of the I.C.A.A.A., Gillespie of the Cadets and J. W. Ward of the Y.M.C.A. They will present the resolutions drawn up at the meeting two weeks ago.

Justice Stuart has given out his judgment in the Supreme Court case Sawyer-Massey Ltd. vs. Bouchard, in which plaintiffs are attempting to collect a deficiency on an agreement after a lapse of eight years. In effect they are asking for personal judgment for a deficiency arising under a mortgage sale. The case of proving a proper sale is upon the mortgagee, and Justice Stuart says it should here be placed upon the vendor. Having failed to show compliance with provisions of the ordinance, Judge Stuart thinks they cannot succeed. The action is therefore dismissed with costs. The judgment is dated from Calgary.

INTEREST IN EDMONTON

The interest taken in the city of Edmonton by the financial world in England is reflected in a communication received by the acting secretary of the Board of Trade.

The editor of the Canadian Mail, a well-written and widely read paper devoted to Canadian financial affairs and published in London, England, was asked for an article on "Edmonton in 1910." In the course of his letter he states that interest in this city is so pronounced among the investing public in England that such an article would be read with deep interest.

It is needless to say that the Board will avail itself of this opportunity to spread the good tidings about the Capital City of Alberta.

NEGLIGEE

COAT SHIRTS

Slip on and off easy as an old coat—hold their looks longer—launder better—more style and smartness to them.

Try this made-right negligee coat shirt and you'll never go back to the over-the-head kind. In all good patterns and right fabrics. Ask for the brand—red label—look for the script letters.
